SHEARER CANDLES

— SINCE 1897 —

Candles for every room, fragrance in every space...

Established in 1897, Shearer Candles is a leading creator and purveyor of artisan candles and scented products. Working with only the purest ingredients and inspired by our beautiful surroundings here in Scotland, our goal is to continuously exceed the expectations of our customers around the world by delivering superior quality and exceptional choice. As the oldest producer of lifestyle candles in the UK, everything we do is underpinned by a long tradition of candle making.

We hand-pick the finest ingredients that are certified to the highest standard. Each fragrance is selected by our experienced nosing team and sourced from accredited fragrance houses in accordance with CLP regulations. Our in-house product development and testing team are constantly developing and improving our portfolio of products to suit market trends and to ensure our products perform to the highest standard. We are also continuously making attempts to reduce our carbon footprint and minimise the amount of plastic packaging we put out into the world.

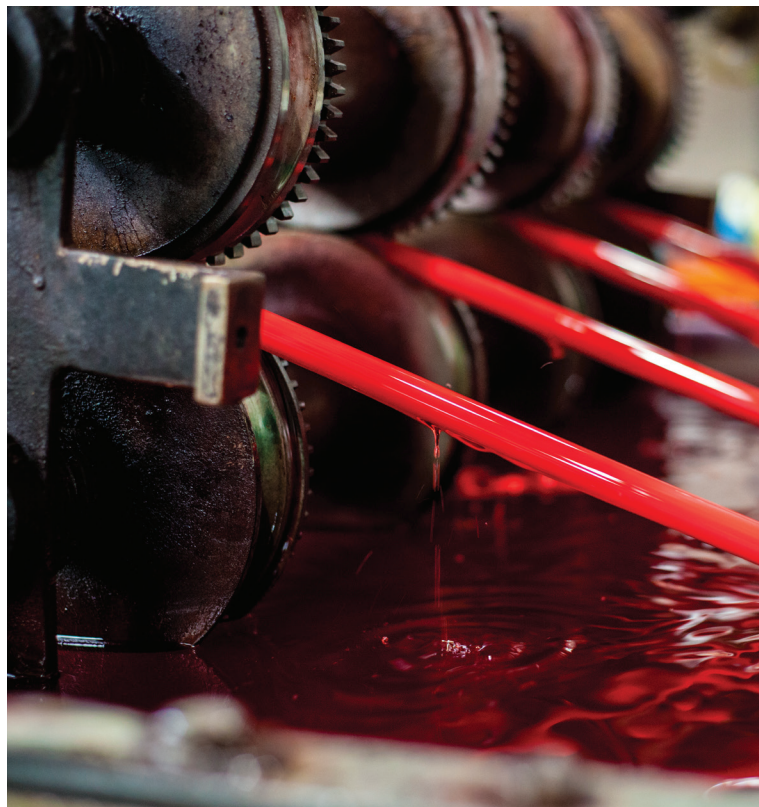

As we move into the future, Shearer Candles is very much focussed on developing and improving our core products. We aim to do this by sourcing more locally, improving our manufacturing processes and above all, putting our customers first.

This brochure shows you a selection of our portfolio designed to bring light, colour and fragrance to interiors over the Autumn, Winter and festive periods.

Church Candles

Church and pillar candles have always been at the very heart of what we do at Shearer Candles.

These brightly burning candles are created by the method of extrusion. Extrusion is the very latest technology in candle making. Crushed wax is forced, using intense pressure through a heated dye to produce a continuous length of candle, where it is then cut into pre-designated sizes.

This process produces high volumes of candles with exceptional quality, long burn times and a classic smooth finish. These candles burn evenly, with no wastage leaving minimal wax at the end of the candle's life.

Dinner Candles

Our wide range of colourful dinner candles are produced using the traditional candle making technique of drawing.

This process involves repeatedly dipping the wick into wax – with each repetition, air is trapped ensuring the candles are long lasting and the wax burns rather than drips.
